PREFACE

.....

Human mind is very complex and every person has different psychology. It is the psychology or our thoughts which make us good or bad. We are usually more attracted toward bad things and to avoid it we should keep our mind busy toward good and constructive things and one way is to keep reading one great thought daily and implement it for that day and throughout the life, after some time you will feel that your life is changing. This is the main motto of publishing this book. I have collected these thoughts/quotes from different newspapers and magazines. This E-book is not for profit making but spreading the good thoughts amongst you. I hope you will love my efforts and forgive my errors and omissions.
